

MEDIA ADVISORY

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
February 10, 2012

AA Unions & Employees Gather at DFW for a Large Valentine's Day Protest At the Heart of the Matter: AA's Outrageous Terms released Feb. 1 by AMR

What: APFA, TWU and AA Employee Protest
Date: Tuesday, February 14, 2012
Time: 11:00 a.m. – 2:00 p.m. CST
Place: DFW International Airport, Dallas-Ft. Worth TX
Site: Terminal D, Upper Level
Who: Association of Professional Flight Attendants (APFA), Transport Workers Union (TWU), AA/AMR Employees, Other Labor Unions and Concerned Citizens

Dallas-Ft. Worth - Employees of American Airlines, including those represented by the Association of Professional Flight Attendants (APFA) and the Transport Workers Union (TWU) and concerned citizens will hold a Valentine's Day protest at DFW International Airport on Tuesday, February 14. Flight Attendants, mechanics and ground-workers and supporters will join together to protest the company's release of "outrageous terms" they deem necessary to fly right.

"American's employees are the heart of this airline and have sacrificed much in the past years to support their company. Our message is clear: We have worked hard, have played by the rules, and we all deserve better than this." – Organizers of the Valentine's Day Event

CONTACT: Jeff Pharr, APFA Communications (954) 558-4155
Tim McAninley TWU Communications (214)-226-8760