John Samuelsen, International President
Transport Workers Union of America, AFL-CIO
501 3rd Street, NW, 9th Floor
Washington, DC, 20001

Dear John,

On behalf of 20,000 CWA represented airline passenger service members we support your Union in your efforts to obtain a fair contract at American Airlines. Our members work closely with your members and your struggle is our struggle.

Only together can we hope to achieve fair working conditions including job security, a fair wage and benefit package that protects our members and provides a future.

Recent events have made it clear that the public demands more from our members every day and expects the highest level of customer service and safety with no delays in service. This can only be provided when employees are fairly compensated and have job security so they can focus on the important jobs that they do.

We stand with you to win an industry leading contract for your members.

In Unity,

Marjorie A. Krueger, Communications Worker of America
Director of Airline Passenger Service
